

HEALTHCARE FOR ALL

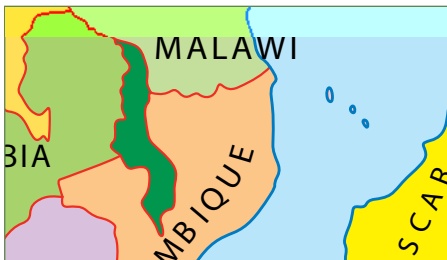

Healthcare in Upper Shire Malawi

Providing essential healthcare to the people living in southern Malawi

In their own words

'I would like to be a doctor here in Malawi. The more Malawian doctors we have, the more we can assist our country better.'

San Honde (pictured)
 Clinical Officer at St Luke's, Malosa

Malawi factfile

Malawi has a wide variety of landscapes, from wetlands and lakes to mountains and forests. National parks and game reserves beckon visitors.

Capital: Lilongwe

Languages: English, Chichewa

Religion: Christianity, Islam

Export: Tobacco, tea, sugar, cotton

Further reading:

www.malawi.gov.mw

USPG in Malawi

The UMCA (now part of USPG) established itself in 1882 in the area around Lake Malawi. Today USPG supports a wide range of work in this region, including healthcare, education and development work.

About this Project...

▶ Target: £28,020 / €37,360 | Project 282

A quarter of Malawi's population survive on just one meagre meal a day. Another hardship is the high prevalence of HIV/AIDS, which is decimating the working population. Faced with these difficulties, the Anglican Church is reaching out through the provision of vital healthcare. In the Diocese of Upper Shire, USPG supports two hospitals, a network of health centres covering 12,000 square miles, and a home-based care programme. St Luke's, in Malosa, is the oldest of the two diocesan hospitals. It started life in the 1940s as a medical centre for missionaries. Since then it has been rebuilt and opened to the general population. Refurbishments in 1971 added new facilities, including a children's ward, maternity ward, outpatient department, offices and stock rooms. The hospital also runs a successful school of nursing, which is currently producing some of the best exam results in the country, with approximately 30 students qualifying each year. St Martin's, the diocese's other hospital, is based in Malindi, on the eastern shore of Lake Malawi. And between the two hospitals there are eight health centres, which are like mini-hospitals with inpatient facilities.

▶ Project supporters will receive three newsletters a year and other resources to help promote your Project.

Registered charity
 in England (234518) and in Ireland (CHY 7998)

To fund this Project contact our Supporter Care team

0845 273 1701 071 965 1998
projects@uspg.org.uk uspg@ireland.anglican.org

Your donations will help us to cover the full costs of the Project, including a direct grant to the partner church and the cost of monitoring the Project and sharing regular news. Any money received over the Project target will be allocated to where the need is greatest.